RECORD SET—What is probably a record for a single pile of wheat to be stored in an enclosure outside of large government elevators or terminals, was established at one of the large hangars at the airport near the city of Swift Current. Some 400,000 bushels of wheat was stored, which took in the neighborhood of 1,000 truckloads. This would fill about ten country elevators. The plan was of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool to cope with the bountiful harvest in the Swift Current district.

MODEL OF STATION—C.N. Railway president Donald Gordon, (right), looks over a model of Montreal's Central Station as it may appear in the near future. The railway is planning a new hotel, and a 28 story office building. With Mr. Gordon in the photo are S. W. Fairweather, (left), vice-president in charge of research and development, and George Drummond, chief railway architect.

NORTHERN MILL GOES DOWN IN FLAMES—The two photos above give a clear picture of the disastrous fire which destroyed the Northern Flour Mill recently at Southern, Sask. The mill was one of the oldest in Saskatchewan, it being built in 1907, and was valued in the neighborhood of $750,000. The mill was a landmark to many old-timers and travellers, who passed through central Saskatchewan.—Photos courtesy of Southern Valley News.

WANT BETTER SCHOOL—Parents in Centre Township near Edmonton, Alta., set up picket lines to protest their children's attendance in school building they term "unsanitary and dangerous". Some 145 pupils turned the demonstration into an impromptu holiday.

HERO'S WELCOME—New York Yankees and 1953 World Series baseball star Billy Martin gets a kiss and is wreathed in floral leis by a pretty Hawaiian upon his arrival in Honolulu. Martin is currently touring the Far East with Ed Lopez's All Stars.

REEL FUN—Four-year-old Daru Sara of Miami Beach, Fla., keeps her parents busy supplying guidance for her indoor filming haven. Confined to a wheel chair due to injuries sustained in a fall recently, the lass amuses herself by using reel and reel in the fish bowl at home.

HAT WITH REEL—This model isn't planning to stand on her head, she's just displaying one of Italy's latest ideas in novelty hats. Rome's stylists bewitched American tourists with this hat, mere creation in Ogilvia Astori, model, vacation spot of Cannes and Capri.

GORDON MACMURCHY, well known in another hockey story as the driver, has again been engaged by the Fox Lake Flyers hockey club in the capacity of playing coach.

GASOLINE SHORTAGE—When the shortage of gasoline caught up with money drivers in the wake of a wildcat without by tank truck drivers, Lilian, of Knightsbridge, London, simply employed the services of a donkey. Here she rides the animal along a London shopping district. Her purchases of course go into the tank.

STAKES AT UNITED NATIONS DAY—Speakers fill the plaza alongside the United Nations General Assembly hall in New York as India's Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, right centre on the balcony, speaks at United Nations Day ceremonies. Mrs. Pandit, president of the General Assembly, renewed the record of the UN since its founding in 1945. The view looks north along New York's First Avenue, background.

PROTESTING ITALIANS—Scupper for safety in Rome as police in a jeep mount the sidewalk to break up a demonstration over the disputed Free Territory of Trieste. No serious injuries were reported in the demonstration. Youngsters in Rome, students by the students' grade under Italian flag, angrily shouting against Yugoslav President Tito's stand on Trieste and surrounding that the strategic Adriatic peninsula be returned to Italy.

SUSPENDERS FOR TOTS—A self-clipping creper, old eliminates safety pins and holds the "three-cornered pants" in place with colorful suspenders in the latest addition to Junior's wardrobe. Made of white cotton, this nursery fashion is fitted with a soft, washable plastic lining for "accident" prevention.

FINGERPRINT ACQUAINTANCE—Even that are bright but cannot see through as this little bird had its fingerprint in "fingerprint". A from the Bronx Zoo by the New York Institute for the Blind, the Blind as part of their program to help blind children "see" with sensitive fingertips.
